

Steelasophical Steel Band - Big Beat Entertainment

Steelasophical is a 6 times entertainment industry award winning steel band and mobile DJ service. Voted “Best Caribbean Music Entertainment Company, UK”, by Lux Life Magazine, they really bring the Caribbean to you and your event.

The main concept of Steelasophical is to have backing music played through quality PA systems with the sounds of the steel drum as the lead vocal of the track. This means virtually any type and style of song can be played with the weest sounds of the steel drums performing the melody.

The band have featured on Come Dine with Me as well as having a track in the 007 film, Casino Royale.

Steelasophical is available in a number of formats from solo drum to quartet and with the option of a full DJ service if required. The band can also play background acoustic music during meet and greets as well as the main performance with backing tracks. They cover a wide range of music across genres and eras with something to suit everyone.

The band are happy to play at any kind of venue, and being as small as a solo, means they can perform in venues where you wouldn't normally consider a steel band. They will also perform at all kinds of events from parties, weddings, corporate functions right through to funerals.